or make a post in the comment ps : The last version after 9/12/2021 the store and release stoped A: This is called an Antimalware Protection Key and is a common practise on all Microsoft software. You can detect any Microsoft protected Software and the key is located in the interface between the installer of the Software and the Program itself. After the installed the software in the first time you will have to "Activate" the Protection Key, with this You will be able to use the Software. The first program to detect the protection key is “MS Antimalware”, you can install this program in the following way: How to Install MS Antimalware - Free 570a42141b
