What's new in Cartel Tycoon:

Cartel Tycoon is a series of freemium mobile game applications developed by Magister Games Studio. In the game, the player creates a real-life cartel, a group of powerful organizations which illegally control the drug trade in a given geographic area, and wages an war of national supremacy against its competitors. The game is published and distributed by Magister Games Studio, which was founded by Edward Wojtyszek. Its first application was Cartel Tycoon Lite, developed as freemium and announced in December 2014. In March 2015, a version for Apple's iOS was released. In November 2016, a full version for iOS was released. Moreover, versions for Android, Google Play, and Windows Phone were also available. Cartel Tycoon was primarily designed for smartphones. Online gameplay features were available, as well as a client in the browser. Most of the initial funding came from Wojtyszek himself. The game had a yearly charge of USD $1.9 million per year. In February 2018, Wojtyszek announced in a Facebook post that the last major content update for Cartel Tycoon would be on February 1st, 2018. At that point, the game was completely free-to-play. Design and development In January 2015, in his very first tweet, Edward Wojtyszek announced that he was working on a new game. Since then, he began to explain the concept. Cartel Tycoon is based on two ideas: "power and devastation" and "damaging the collab-system". The power one refers to the ability to create and control large scale organizations, for which profitability is of lesser concern than the accumulated kinetic energy. Deception and treachery are required to achieve such goal, that is, to control the use of terror to create markets and buy off jurisdictions. A fine-tuned strategy for the products and partners is necessary. The devastation, on the other hand, revolves around the game's control system, which is based on the design of blockchain for data security. This system allows players of varying levels of difficulty, low or high, to play and manage anonymous game accounts, avoiding the risk of bankruptcy. Cartel Tycoon Lite was announced at Facebook on December 8, 2014 as an informal proof-of-concept and an opportunity to allow everyone to experience the game before its full version. Designed for smartphones and tablets, it was free. In a post on Facebook, Magister Games Studio described it as a "pain
