Previous studies revealed that the prevalence of trichiasis in Malawi is high and that in this study 22.9% of the participants had trichiasis. Previous studies revealed that the prevalence of trichiasis in Malawi is high and that in this study 22.9% of the participants had trichiasis. A: In your example, the first sentence is better. The second sentence, though grammatically correct, is rather weak and does not give as much information. The structure is: Subject -> Object -> Adj -> Noun When the object is omitted, a comma has to be used (in this case). However, if you just want to
