A: your "options" argument to requests.get() are wrong: options={'request': requests.Request('GET', '')} should be: options={'request': requests.Request('GET', "", headers={'Referer': ''})} (although you don't need the headers since the referer is already properly sent from the browser), and options={'verify': False} should be a bool: options={'verify': False} Note that you should put all of this in a "with" scope (since you're using a third-party library, that should be just fine), so you get import requests from bs4 import BeautifulSoup from urllib.parse import urlparse with requests.Session() as req_session: req_session.verify = False with requests.Session(verify=False) as req_session: url = urlparse(req_session.headers['Referer'])[4] req_session.headers.update({'Referer': url}) yield from BeautifulSoup(req_session.get(url)) BTW, instead of the "get the next page" hack you've used, it's much better to use page-items-count
