I've been mostly spending my time the past 2 years developing and improving a Civ Mod for Civ VI called Civ 2.15. This mod adds a lot of much-needed balance and tweaks to Civ VI, making it much more balanced and fun to play. My attention now turns to Civ 2.19 and Civ 4.10, an older Civ Mod I've been working on for years, and a mod with a much larger focus. I plan to release in the next few weeks, with a slight bump to version 2.17 as I release 1.0.7. I expect that Civ 2.18 will be delayed to after the release of Civ 2.19. I've been extremely busy with work for the last few years, but I'll still be

Mr. Fluffykins, popularly known by his nickname, Fluffykins is a spammer notable for spamming companies such as Google and Sony for a variety of egregious topics and for the diversity of his spam samples. In many ways, Fluffykins is the prototypical spammer: he is constantly tricking companies so he can be even further in violation of anti-spam policies to avoid getting caught. While Fluffykins spam uses several types of messages, we categorize their subjects into three broad categories: General Adult, Sensitive, and inappropriate for work. Adult and inappropriate for work messages are hostile in tone or approach; Sensitive messages contain details about the individuals who are referenced, often by name. General Adult General Adult refers to spam that contains content that is generally regarded as adult in nature, such as porn, being secretive, directing/threatening money laundering, or making rude comments about groups. In this category, we expect a large number of files from each server, typically in high volume. spam: DDoS generator, COUNTER-VAULT, Urgent inquiry about expropriation of assets,money trap Network DDoS Software that creates sub-threads in a DDoS attack. I was thinking about the following question: Let $f:\mathbb{R}^n\to \mathbb{R}$ be a continuous function. Is there any possible way to get an upper bound to $f(\mathbb{R}^n)$? I know that, if I let $L=\sup f$, and I have a sequence (x_n) which converges to x with $f(x_n)>L$ for all n. Does this imply that $f(x)>L$? I am not sure if this is true, but it seems to me that the answer is yes. A: No. Consider the function $f(x)=2\,x_1\,x$
