find it in the user guide. Visual MODFLOW Flex 2013 Visual MODFLOW Flex is the industry standard software for 3D groundwater flow, heat and contaminant transport modeling. Integrated with a powerful and flexible user interface, the software enables you to perform research on both natural and man-made systems, including: Modeling of landfill sites and nuclear waste repositories Evaluation of geologic and geohydrologic hazards Identification of source zones for contaminant plumes Quantification of the transport of gases and toxic chemicals Identification of the most likely migration pathways Advanced features The software offers additional capabilities not normally found in other software packages. The following features are available in Visual MODFLOW Flex 2013: Visual MODFLOW Flex 4 Visual MODFLOW Flex 4 is a new version of the groundwater flow, heat and contaminant transport modeling software developed by Waterloo Engineering. Designed to be very user friendly it is easy to use and very intuitive to learn. Various new features have been added including: The ability to model multi-phase flow The ability to model flows as a non-equilibrium process (exceeding the basic steady-state assumptions) The ability to perform both transient and steady-state simulations The ability to perform simulations at constant head (implicit-explicit representation) for improved numerical stability The ability to constrain the steady-state output by matching certain parameters such as input recharge or steady-state head at the inlet to a target value The ability to constrain the transient solution by matching reference values for a number of parameters (e.g., volume, mass, fraction, fluid properties) The ability to automatically restart the simulation from any defined point, with the ability to do the same from a certain number of past steady-state values

Basic features The following features are available in Visual MODFLOW Flex 4: Visual MODFLOW Flex 5 Visual MODFLOW Flex 5 is a new version of the groundwater flow, heat and contaminant transport modeling software developed by Waterloo Engineering.
